Breakout Sessions

Friday @ 2:15PM

Opportunities for Afterschool in the Every Student Succeeds Act

presented by MASN Leadership Team and the Department of Elementary and Secondary Education

This session will give participants information on how afterschool programs fit into the new Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA), the new iteration of the federal Elementary and Secondary Education Act. The session will feature success stories from both urban and rural school districts, information on the new state plan, and resources to help school districts incorporate afterschool in their local plans. Time will be allotted for questions. (double session).

Help students take a stand! Be part of National History Day in Missouri

Mary Ellen Lohman

State Historical Society of Missouri

Looking for a great program that encourages students to be innovative while developing leadership and critical thinking skills? Join us to learn how your students can unleash their creativity through National History Day by making their own documentary, exhibit, paper, performance, or website...it could even take them to Washington D.C.! Discover how you can adapt NHD to fit your after-school goals while giving your students an awesome experience. As a bonus, in this session you'll learn more about education program sponsors the State Historical Society of Missouri.

The Power of Play

Lindsey Murphy

MEd, CCLS, CTP

Play is not only universal, but essential to human development. It is recognized as one of the most powerful influences on cognitive, social, and emotional development for children and adults alike. By understanding the mechanisms behind the value of play, participants will rejuvenate their own playful spirit, leading them to create environments that stimulate positive growth and development in their communities. This presentation will provide audience members with a greater understanding of the science behind play, the importance of play, and engage participants in play itself!

Breakout Sessions

Friday @ 3:45PM

Out-of-School-Time Food and Snack Programs

Elizabeth Blau

Community Planner for Nutrition Programs, MO Dept. of Health and Senior Services

Learn about two food programs available to out-of-school time programs through the Department of Health and Senior Services. The Summer Food Service Program (SFSP) helps assure children 0 to 18 years of age have access to nutritious meals during the summer months. SFSP contracts with community-based organizations and schools to provide nutritious meals during the summer months. SFSP contracts with community-based organizations and schools to provide nutritious meals during the summer. Afterschool programs that participate in CACFP give children and teenagers the nutrition they need, and draw them into constructive activities that are safe, fun, and filled with opportunities for learning.

Put Missouri Under the Feet of your Afterschoolers

Judith Ware

Missouri Geographic Alliance

Explore the whys of where with a Giant Traveling Floor Map of Missouri. This session will introduce you to how to use the map with youth to explore geography, science, tourism, agriculture, college access and more. You will have to kick off your shoes and walk across Missouri with a 17 foot x 22 foot map made by National Geographic.

Join us at our final Statewide Committee Meetings of the 2017 program year!

May 11, 2017

Stoney Creek Inn & Conference Center, Columbia, MO

Breakout Sessions

Saturday @ 8:30AM

Documentary: "Screenagers"

Are you watching kids scroll through life, with their rapid-fire thumbs and a six-second attention span? Physician and filmmaker Delaney Ruston saw that with her own kids and learned that the average kid spends 6.5 hours a day looking at screens. Through poignant, and unexpectedly funny stories, along with surprising insights from authors, psychologists, and brain scientists, SCREENAGERS reveals how tech time impacts kids' development and offers solutions on how adults can empower kids to best navigate the digital world and find balance.

Speed Dating for Exciting Inexpensive Projects and Exercises in Music, Art, Theatre and Dance

Presented by

Missouri Alliance For Arts in Education

After a brief introduction to MAAE and services it provides, attendees will make 10 minute stops at 4-5 stations learning/doing a project that would be dynamic and affordable for you to use with your students. Wear comfortable clothes and shoes because you will be in motion for much of this workshop.

The Making Of A Leader

Erika Petrelli

Senior VP of Leadership Development for The Leadership Program

What does leadership mean? How does someone become a leader? At what age can someone step into their leadership and make a difference in their community? We believe that leadership is something unique to each of us, and that leadership is like a spark just waiting for the right thing to ignite it. Once ignited, there is no limit to the potential within our youth. Come to this workshop to discover strategies for igniting the leadership in your youth.

Breakout Sessions

Saturday @ 10:15AM

“Screenagers” Movie Discussion

Facilitated by David Carroll

After watching the “Screenagers” documentary, participants will engage in a facilitated discussion with others who watched the movie. Conversation will center around video games and social media, brain science, schools, and solutions brought up in the film. This session will immediately follow the movie showing.

Tips for Effectively Communicating in Professional Settings

Jaclyn Brandhorst

Doctoral Candidate and Graduate Teaching Instructor, University of Missouri

Communicating well with parents, students, colleagues and community partners is an important and sometimes challenging endeavor. Effective communication involves creating messages that are clear, courteous, and concise, as well as considering the ways in which we communicate nonverbally. This session focuses on tips for effective written, verbal, and digital communication with others. This interactive presentation includes working through difficult scenarios that may occur with a student, parent, or colleague in order to identify best practices for communicating well in sticky situations.

Breaking Out of the Rut: Transforming Your Approach to Youth Work

Erika Petrelli

Senior VP of Leadership Development for The Leadership Program

If it's not broken, don't fix it. Sound like you? Do you do the same old things that you've always done? Do you think, “It has always worked, why bother changing?” It's time to transform your approach, to imagine what else might be possible. You deserve a fresh look at curriculum and programming, and your students do too. Step out of the rut of what has worked and into the realm of what might be possible!

Breakout Sessions

Saturday @ 1:30PM

How to Partner With Your Local 4-H Program Through SPIN Clubs

Shannon White

MO 4-H Center for Youth Development

SPIN clubs (or Special Interest clubs) are a great way for an afterschool program to work with their local MU Extension 4-H program. This type of club can be based on the educational needs that you have in your program and the over 200 project areas that 4-H has projects in. This is a great way to use 21st Century Grant funds or to build external partnerships in your community with existing resources from national curriculum that can be localized.

Trends and Emerging Issues in Substance Use

Chuck Daugherty

Executive Director of ACT Missouri

This presentation will give participants a better understanding of the way substance use affects the brain and body of users, discussion will include youth and adolescent use. This workshop will include discussions on the most commonly abused substances along with specific substances that are emerging in Missouri.

The Softer Side of Leadership

Erika Petrelli

Senior VP of Leadership Development for The Leadership Program

Leadership skills are much more than understanding spreadsheets, fundraising and organizational growth. True leadership is also filled with the “soft” stuff—effective communication, empathy, vulnerability. Today’s workers want leaders who are strong—and to be strong requires a hearty understanding of how to be soft. Explore the softer side of leadership to improve your organizational culture and increase staff productivity.
